A: May be you should try, grep -E "[a-zA-Z0-9_]{3,10}" file.txt This above regex will not only check for any 3 or more chars but also alphanumeric chars after dot. RegEx Details: \[a-zA-Z0-9_\] - matches a literal dot. \{3,10\} - a backreference, which is a backslash followed by 3 to 10 quantifier {min,max} and then }. Test URL: Checks if any file contains 3 or more alphanumeric chars and dot in it. Jurgen Klinsmann doesn't consider it a coincidence that Germany have reached the semi-finals of the World Cup. They knocked out the host team as well as the defending champions of South Africa, Spain, and eventually came through the group stage to reach the last four in Brazil. They have done so with a style that sees them play football intelligently and defensively, while keeping a high tempo. Jurgen Klinsmann's Germany ran out 5-0 winners against Spain Klinsmann refused to accept it was a fluke Germany won all their matches in South Africa. "It's not a fluke, we've been working on that for a long time," he told a press conference. "It's not a coincidence that we won every game. We played with a lot of concentration." 55cdc1ed1c
